Aurora's BC Northern Lights and Namaste Technologies Sign Supply Agreement

Vancouver, BC – November 27, 2017 - Aurora Cannabis Inc. (the “Company” or “Aurora”) (TSX: ACB) (OTCQX: ACBFF) (Frankfurt: 21P; WKN: A1C4WM) and Namaste Technologies Inc. (“Namaste”) (CSE: N) (FRANKFURT: M5BQ) (OTCMKTS: NXTTF) are pleased to announce that Aurora’s wholly owned subsidiary BC Northern Lights (“BCNL”) and Namaste Technologies have signed a Hardware Supply Agreement (the “Agreement”) whereby Namaste will be the first third-party distributor to sell BCNL’s premium home cultivation systems and accessories through its online technology platform.

Namaste will roll out same-day delivery service of select BCNL products to the Greater Toronto Area (“GTA”), as well as next day delivery in most other parts of Canada, to help meet the growth in demand for home gardening systems anticipated with the passing of the federal Cannabis Act (the “Act”) to legalize adult consumer use, as well as continued rapid growth of the medical cannabis market.

Legislation announced by the Ontario Government foresees a provincial monopoly on cannabis sales upon introduction of adult consumer use, with only a limited number of stores servicing Canada’s most populous province. As the Act does allow for up to four cannabis plants per household, it is anticipated that home gardening will become an increasing segment of the market. This creates an opportunity that BCNL, with its gold standard products and strong brand recognition, is exceptionally well positioned to capitalize on.

The Agreement is expected to accelerate BCNL product sales and create a new revenue channel for Namaste by leveraging its existing traffic, distribution network, and e-commerce platform, and is aligned with Namaste’s intention to offer the most extensive range of high-quality ancillary products in the cannabis industry. The distributorship of BCNL products follows on an earlier agreement between the two companies, as announced on September 28, 2017, through which Aurora, through its website, is offering a specially curated selection of industry-leading, Namaste-sourced vaporizers to its registered patient base, utilizing Namaste’s technology platform and delivery infrastructure.

Management Commentary

“Aurora and our growing constellation of top-notch subsidiaries have become partners of choice in this sector, at home and around the world, and that’s extremely gratifying,” said Terry Booth, Aurora’s CEO. “It speaks to the power of the Aurora Standard in terms of product quality and customer care, to the trust we inspire in our partners, and to our ability to execute fast and well. We love bringing great companies together, and we’re delighted that Namaste is now helping us bring BCNL’s excellent, efficient and elegant cultivation products to an even broader audience of customers.”

Sean Dollinger, President and CEO of Namaste said, “We are very proud to have signed this Agreement with BCNL and to bring value to our relationship with Canada’s most dynamic licensed producer. We greatly value our relationship with Aurora. Namaste sees large growth potential in home-based indoor cultivation industry and has high expectations for sales through this new channel. This Agreement further exemplifies Namaste’s role as the industry’s leading e-commerce retailer in offering the most innovative products along with partners like Aurora. The ancillary market, in our experience, is ideal for e-commerce penetration and offers very substantial expansion opportunities, and we would like to thank both the Aurora and BCNL management teams for this amazing opportunity.”
